About Us

The Child Outcomes Research Consortium is the UK's leading membership organisation that collects and uses evidence to improve children and young people's mental health and wellbeing.

Our mission is to promote the meaningful use of evidence to enable more effective child-centred support, services and systems to improve children and young people's mental health and wellbeing.

CORC has over ten years' experience in bringing together theoretical knowledge on outcome measurement and relating this to the insights and expertise developed by practitioners working with children and young people on the ground.

Our experienced trainers are engaged with the latest research and draw on real-world examples from CORC members and beyond to bring theory to life and ensure that participants gain practical, relevant knowledge to apply in their own working context.
